

My Storytelling Tool

Somebody Wanted But So-At Last (SWBSA) summarizes the important parts of a story.

I can use SWBSA as a tool, or strategy, to help me tell stories. SWBSA helps me organize my language. Using this tool will help me choose the most important parts of a story and put those events in order.

When I put events in order, other people will better understand the story I'm telling.

I can use the SWBSA strategy to:

- Tell the important parts of a story I read or hear
- Organize my ideas to create my own story
- Tell a story about something that happened to me
- Solve real problems I am facing at school or home
